

A Duck. A Talent. A Dream.

Pluck, a very special duck, has extraordinary talents. But no one knows, not even his friend Mrs. Macker.

Watch what happens when Pluck decides to reveal what he can really do. Will he risk everything to share his talents and follow his dream?

This vibrant, rhyming children’s story delivers fun and excitement while presenting powerful messages of standing up for yourself, taking risks, forgiving others, and valuing friendship.

Complete with questions and activities, this delightful book for ages 4-8 further engages children at home, at the library, and in the classroom.

“Who would think the story told in delightful verse of a talented duck could tell such a powerful tale of sharing one’s talents and asking for and receiving forgiveness?”

—Peggy Albertine, Elementary School Teacher 35+ years

8 x 10 40 pages

978-1-7367765-3-7 hard cover $17.95

978-1-7367765-1-3 soft cover $12.95

978-1-7367765-2-0 ebook $7.99

“This charming tale of friendship, communication, and overcoming fears is also a lesson for all ages in the equality of all living things”

—Carla M. Payne, Psy.D.

“What a fun and interesting rhyming story, designed to teach our young folk to put themselves out there, pursue their passions, and build up those around them. A must read for anyone, young or old!”

—Katie Ivy, Third Grade Teacher

 Creative Pursuits
PUBLISHING

www.ThePluckyDuck.com

Available nationally:

Bookstores/Libraries/Schools – Ingram
Individuals and organizations – favorite online and local bookstores

